

Position: CS Engineer

Job Description

- Support installation for machines on- site for customers for his measurement/metrology competency.
- Analyze complex and specialist problems on site in cooperation with local fab team & competency engineers.
- Co-work/advise local fab team and competency engineers on-site about the direction in which solutions should be sought and/or solves the problem himself at the customer location.
- Be responsible for regular updating of his own and local Field Service Engineers knowledge so that each problem can be handled from locally available in depth product knowledge.
- Take part in local availability/reliability projects in order to formulate demands concerning failure sensitivity and maintainability, and takes responsibility for implementing these demands in new and existing products and install base.
- Transfer know-how by making presentations and giving on-the-job training as well as providing material for technical documentation and training.

Education

Bachelor in Electrical Technology, Mechatronics, Mechanical Engineering, Physics, Computer Science.

Experiences

Experience in a support department for high tech products. (for TWINSCAN / PAS/ NXT/EUV).

Personal Skills

- Strong technical familiarity and motivation.
- Good communication and customer skills.
- Verbal and written English skills.
- Analytical ability, flexible attitude for travel.